ROAD RULES

Bikes are legal vehicles and belong on the road. (ORC 4511.01)

Cyclists may use the full travel lane just like cars. (ORC 4511.55)

Motorists must give cyclists at least 3 feet of clearance when passing them on the street. (CLE 431.03d)

Cyclists may ride two abreast, but should avoid unnecessary delays to other traffic. (ORC 4511.55)

Bikes should turn like any other vehicle – by merging to the appropriate lane and yielding to any traffic that has the right of way. (ORC 4511.36)

A white headlight, red rear reflector and red taillight are required when biking at night. (ORC 4511.56)
